

Kansas FFA Association

Presents...

Leader Lab/Stand and Deliver

Friday, March 17 – Saturday, March 18

The Kansas FFA Leader Lab & Stand and Deliver Conference has much to offer all members. During Leader Lab members have an opportunity to network with others from across the state and go through workshops with professional facilitators on important topics such as goal setting, time management, and communication. The atmosphere of Leader Lab allows for members to be engaged at all times, while actively participating in the workshops. Members learn a lot in a short amount of time that they are able to take back to their chapters.

The Stand and Deliver section of the conference focuses on member's and their individual growth in public speaking, personal leadership, and message development. Members again will work with professional facilitators, yet in a smaller group setting. Stand and Deliver allows for students to learn material and then apply and practice what they just learned. Because of the smaller setting, members are able to experience more one-on-one time with each other and their facilitators. This is a great opportunity for member's who want to further develop their speaking, leadership, and relational skills.

When?

Registration begins Friday, March 17th at 5 PM. Dinner will NOT be provided, so please make sure students have eaten beforehand!

Where?

Courtyard Marriott – Junction City
310 Hammons Drive, Junction City, KS 66441 - Phone: 785-210-1500

What to bring?

School appropriate dress for Friday evening and Official Dress on Saturday coupled with a positive attitude!

Cost?

Early Bird Registration Fee: $100 for students.
Early Bird Deadline is March 8th. Includes room, food and conference fees. There will be a $25 late fee per chapter.

Rooms?

Roommates will be randomly assigned so members can meet people from other chapters across the state.

SEND PAYMENTS TO:

Kansas FFA Association

110 Umberger Hall
Manhattan, KS 66506
www.ksffa.org