

Updated 2/2023*

Agriscience Fair Process of Entry & Interview

Virtual

1. Submission of entries

- a. Due April 19, 2023
- b. Complete online registration via JudgingCard.com
 - i. Same system as the other CDEs/LDEs
- c. Identify any and all potential entries (even those you are not sure will compete)
- d. Need: Student(s) Name, Category, Division
 - i. When registering teams of two, please put both names in the same line under the appropriate category on the registration form.

2. Submission of Manuscript

- a. Due April 26, 2023 via AET
- b. Use the “Agriscience Fair” award application to submit the application and manuscript
 - i. Must have all the electronic signatures
 - ii. Students will log into their account to sign their name, the teacher must also sign their name to approve, and the “research supervisor” signs as well (who can also be the advisor)
 - iii. Each person on a two-member team must have their own FFA member ID

3. Interviews

- a. Conducted the week of May 8, 2023
- b. Student(s) will sign up for a designated time for a live Zoom session
- c. While it is recommended to create a PowerPoint slide to be the “poster”, it is not required and will not be graded.
 - i. *Poster Display Boards are no longer accepted at the national level. Therefore, we will only allow a virtual poster as a supplemental resource, but it will not be scored.

Other items to note:

- Manuscripts will be judged by the same judges as those conducting the interviews.
- Each interview will be allowed 15 minutes total (but they do not have to take the entire time).
- The 15 minutes for each interview include the explanation and any questions from the judges.
- If the project is a team of two, both individuals must participate in the interview if they want to compete for the opportunity to advance to nationals.
- Students may only enter one individual project or one team project, not a project in each division.
